A MILLIONAIRE SHOT DOWN

L. R. MORGAN KILLED BY FORMER EMPLOYEE

Murderer Hanged Himself in Cell of Jail—Murdered Man was Sash and Door Manufacturer at Oshkosh, Wis.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 18.—Thomas R. Morgan, a millionaire sash door manufacturer, was shot to death today by Frederick Hampel, a discharged employee. Hampel fired three shots into Morgan's back. The murderer was overpowered and taken to the police station. At noon it was discovered he had hanged himself in the cell.

After the shooting Morgan walked unassisted to his office. He was taken at once to St. Mary's hospital, but died before the hospital was reached. The tragedy has cast a gloom over the city and employees of the company are frenzied with anger. Police were notified a lynching was contemplated and took precautions to prevent such a tragedy. The shooting was witnessed by several people. Joseph Rowland, an employee, was talking with Morgan when Hampel came up, apparently under the influence of liquor. Morgan turned to leave. Hampel shot at him in the back and Morgan cried out with pain. Rowland immediately grappled with Hampel and they went down together. Two more shots being fired meantime. Rowland was underneath, but held onto the gun. Another employee rushed up and released Rowland and the two held Hampel until a policeman took him to prison, where he hanged himself as soon as left alone. Rowland says Hampel had not been discharged, so far as he knows. He works with Morgan and declares there was no reason for the shooting.

YACHTS MEASURED.

New York, Aug. 18.—Official measurements of the Reliance and Shamrock III announced to night show the Reliance will have to allow Shamrock III one minute and forty-two seconds over a thirty mile course.

It was found Shamrock III was slightly lower on the water line than the American boat, but the latter proved to have nearly 2,000 more square feet of sail than the challenger and this was the cause of the difference. The length of the Reliance on the water line was 93.6 feet; Shamrock III, 93.1. On the base line the Reliance measures 291.59; Shamrock III, 287.4. Reliance sails 10,169.93 square feet; Shamrock, 11,377.45. One result of the measurement was about eight inches of the end of the spinnaker boom of Shamrock III was sawed off owing to the fact that was estimated that much longer than the base of the forward triangle which covers the head sails of the yacht, which would mean penalization if allowed to stand. After measurements both yachts were towed to Sandy Hook.

Virginia, Aug. 18.—Adam Anderson was found dead at noon yesterday in the yard at his home in a reclining position on one of the benches. The coroner's inquest has not been held, but there is no doubt that his death was due to natural causes, as he was advanced in years and very feeble.

The deceased was an old-time resident of Virginia and was agent here for the old Peoria & Pekin railway many years ago. In later years he was successful in conducting railway eating houses in Beardstown, Crawfordsville, Ind., and other places.

CHILD MURDERED.

Detroit, Aug. 18.—The mutilated body of a 4-year-old boy named Alphonse Welms was found today. The child had been missing since yesterday noon. The boy's abdomen was slashed open, left wrist nearly severed and both sides had long deep cuts in them.

The murder is as much of a mystery to police to night as it was when the child's mutilated body was found today. Nearly every detective at police headquarters is working on the case, but thus far not even a clue to the murderer has been discovered.

The resolutions also declare for adherence to the policy of protection; oppose combination of capital, "having for their purpose the stifling of competition and arbitrary control of production or fixing of prices." Also favor strengthening the navy; encourage American commerce; approve control and government of the Philippines as planned by the present administration and praise every step taken in acquiring the islands and improving their condition since declaring "under the administration of Republican presidents, McKinley and Roosevelt, the people and persons have received the benefit of American law, are being educated in schools conducted by American teachers, their burdens are being lightened, their hearts being gladdened, their homes being brightened, their children dedicated to wider and purer realization and we should ever guard and protect them as sacred, as they are the principals of liberty and good government.

IMPOSE ON FOBEIGNER

Imprisoned for Refusing Venezuela's Demand to Repay Taxes Castro's Threat

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 18.—Authentic information has been received announcing the imprisonment of French, German and Italian merchants at Ciudad Bolivar (which port was recently recaptured from rebels by President Castro's troops) for refusing Castro's demand for repayment of taxes already paid to the de-facto government. Castro demanded payment of arrears for the period of occupation of Ciudad Bolivar by the revolutionary government. The amount demanded exceeds $50,000. The merchants refused to recognize the Castro decree abolishing Ciudad Bolivar as a port of entry and decline to ship goods via Carupano. The Venezuelan gunboat Maranda went to the district of Nutrias, exacting from merchants forced contributions and fines amounting to $50,000. Goods imported during the revolutionary regime were confiscated and double duties imposed.

It is reported Castro has threatened to annihilate commerce and expel the foreign community of Guayana on the Orinoco. A reign of terror prevails throughout the district owing to extortion, threats and barbarous acts of the party in power. The entire region of the Orinoco teems with produce which has accumulated during the past two years, and for which there are not adequate shipping facilities. Native and German firms at Caracas appear to be seeking control of the entire Orinoco import trade. There is no money in the Orinoco country and distress is very great. All American river boats and interests up the Orinoco are at a standstill, being unable to move in consequence of the determination to destroy the trans-shipment trade in American and European goods in Trinidad and the Orinoco river country.

COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 18.—The fourteenth annual convention of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress convened here to day with an unusually large attendance, delegates being present from every state and territory in the trans-Mississippi region, Alaska and Hawaii.

Gresham spoke briefly, expressing confidence in the future success of the organization. Governor McBridge and Mayor Himes delivered addresses of welcome.

The annual address of President Kirby was read. It reviewed the growth of American commerce until 1902, when exports reached $1,355,000,000. He also spoke of the bright future of the west because of the adoption of irrigation and expressed great confidence in the possibility of the country's commerce.

In the afternoon W. R. Richardson, secretary of the National Good Roads association, spoke on "Good Roads." Richardson took for his subject "Immigration and Distribution."

SINGLE MEN ARE WORRIED.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 18.—The Bachelors' club of this city has taken up the fight in behalf of the unmarried men of Hammond, who are assailed by Mayor Knotts in his request to the general industries here, asking that they be supplanted by married men. The club was called by President Busenhihl and resolutions were drawn up denouncing the action of the mayor. They set forth that it may not be convenient or practicable for a bachelor to marry in order to save his job, and that a man cannot buy a wife as he would a hat or a pair of overhoses. The club promises to do all in its power to convince single men that their duty is to marry and asks the manufacturers not to dismiss them peremptorily without a hearing. The meeting between the mayor and manufacturers has not yet taken place.

GRAND PARADE WAS HELD

MILITARY, NAVAL AND CIVIC BODIES MARCH.

An Imposing Spectacle for the Crowds in San Francisco—Gen Black May be Elected Commander by Acclamation.

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—The parade of military, naval and civic bodies of this city and state, which took place this morning, furnished an imposing spectacle for vast crowds of people who packed the streets and every point of vantage along the line of march. It certainly was one of the finest displays ever seen here and utmost enthusiasm prevailed among the spectators.

Sharp upon the appointed hour the bugle gave the signal to advance. Military, naval and civic organizations with Grand marshal Col. J. B. Butler in the lead, wheeled into their appointed positions without the slightest disorder. Among the dignitaries who rode in carriages following federal and state troops were Governor Pardee, Generals MacArthur, Shafter and Miles and Mayor Schmitz. In Venice avenue the parade passed in review before George Stone, chairman of the executive committee of the national encampment, G. A. R. It may be set down as certain that Gen. John C. Black, of Illinois, will succeed General Stewart as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. All opposition to Black has vanished with the announcement by Lieutenant General that he would not oppose the Illinoisan. The election of Black by acclamation is expected. The same compliment for lies in 1904 is anticipated.

During the day various reunions were held, all being well attended. To night a reception was given Commander-in-Chief Stewart and open house was kept by the departments of Illinois, Missouri and Ohio. The city was again brilliantly illuminated to night.

Several thousands attended the Stewart reception to night. Speeches were made by Gen. George Stone, Major General Shafter, Mayor Schmidt and Commander Stewart. Addresses were also made by Mrs. I. J. Taylor, national president of the Women's Relief corps, and by Mrs. Anna M. Hamm, national president of the Women of the Grand Army.

POWERS' TRIAL.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 18.—The cross-examination of Caleb Powers was concluded to day, but developed little that is new. Robert Noakes, a commonwealth witness, was recalled and confronted with a statement made by him at Danville, Ill., Dec. 9, 1900, to Max Lewis, of Louisville, and Attorney W. R. Jewell, of that place. In that statement Noakes charged Attorney Campbell with trying to induce him to swear falsely to secure the conviction of Jim Howard and Finley and Powers and told him of buying witnesses. He made the statement, but said that after making it he told Lewis and Jewell he refused to swear to it or even sign it. He explained by saying that at the time he made the statement he was willing to help Powers out of his trouble, for he (Noakes) was preparing to go to Brazil to stay for good. The defense produced and had Noakes identify a letter which he had written Powers, soliciting him to send some one to Danville, Ill., to bet the statement referred to above.

The negroes fired upon the rescuers, killing one while the girl escaped to the white men. She said she was stolen from home near Port Gibson, I. T. Powers of citizens have been organized to attack the negroes and a bloody fight is expected.

SURE CURE FOR LOCKJAW.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—A cure for lockjaw, feared from the time of Hippocrates and regarded by modern physicians as one of the most deadly of diseases, has been discovered by Dr. S. A. Matthews, of the University of Chicago, and has been successfully used.

Dr. Matthews' method of treatment is the injection of a solution of calcium and potassium salts.

The new cure is a diuretic. The problem which Dr. Matthews has worked out is to get the proper combination of salts to bring about the effect desired.

Now that it has been found the doctors say the same principle can be applied to the cure of snake bites, blood poisoning and other diseases caused by toxins in the body.

The tetanus poison is said to be the most virulent known. The deadly character of lockjaw is shown by the statistics of deaths resulting from Fourth of July injuries. Twenty persons have died in Chicago from this cause since Independence day, while 175 are reported to have died in the United States.

TEXTILE STRIKERS LOSE.

Philadelphia, Aug. 18.—It is estimated that between 6,000 and 7,000 textile workers, principally operatives in the rug branch, resumed work to day. The manufacturers made no concessions. The strike was inaugurated eleven weeks ago and of the original 20,000 strikers but 10,000 remain out. Many of the idle hands are dyers and it is said that if they continue to remain firm they may compel some of the mills to close because of the lack of dye stuffs.

He discovered the Pamilo mine and his wealth is now estimated at $20,000,000. He had no faith in banks and it is said silver bars worth a great sum are locked in a steel cage in his palatial home near Parral, constantly guarded by a strong force of men. A year ago Alvarado made his first trip over railroad, chartering a special train for this city and bringing with him a bodyguard of 200 men.

WAR VESSELS OF THE CZAR

ARE NOW IN TURKISH WATERS.

Support Demands Made in Connection with Assassination of Consul at Monastir—A Fierce Battle Reported.

Constantinople, Aug. 18.—The Russian squadron of warships, which left Sebastopol yesterday, arrived off the Turkish coast this afternoon to support the demands made on Turkey by Russia in connection with the assassination of Rostkovski, Russian consul at Monastir. The fact Russia is about to make a naval demonstration in Turkish waters had been kept a profound secret here; the public being perfectly ignorant of the Russian movement.

According to advices received at one of the foreign embassies at Constantinople no less than 800 Musselmans have been massacred throughout the district of Monastir by insurgents, whose movements continue to gain ground.

BATTLE REPORTED.

Sofia, Aug. 18.—A fierce battle is reported to have occurred in the neighborhood of Monastir. Three Turkish battalions attacked the insurgents and after a fight which raged for six hours the Turks were repulsed with the loss of 210 men killed or wounded. The insurgent loss was not given.

Reports received here from Constantinople, believed to be authentic, confirm previous statements to the effect when Turks captured Krushovo they slaughtered the entire Christian population without exception.

A reign of terror is reported at Uskub, where the Christians are afraid to leave their homes. Musselmans have resolved at a given signal to massacre the whole Christian population, immediately upon the insurgent band appears near Uskub. In any other pretext. Turkish troops are their only protection, do not have the slightest disposition to aid the attitude of Turkish troops was very plainly manifested when a train of soldiers, shortly after leaving Sofia, fired on Bulgarian workmen who were repairing the track. Three workmen were killed and their bodies left lying on the line.

Telegraphic communication between Sofia and Constantinople is interrupted, the wires having been cut between Adrianople and Constantinople. No telegrams for Constantinople have been received here since Monday evening. Fears are expressed here regarding the safety of the railroad between Adrianople and Constantinople. Forty-three battalions of Turkish reserves in Europe have been called out.

Supt. Bayless Says Conditions are Improving There.

"Since I have been superintendent of public instruction I have made frequent visits into that part of the state called Egypt, and I have noticed a radical improvement from time to time," said Mr. Bayless to day. "I saw there an advance even since the last visit I made to that county. You can see it in the appearance of the people and feel it in the air. Capital is going into that country at a remarkable rate and the new generation is bestirring itself. The new railroads are infusing life into the community and the people are finding out what the country is good for. Fruit and grain and stock thrive in many counties. Pulaski is discovering the value of its mineral deposits, such as flour spar and lead and zinc, which from indications is plentiful and even more valuable than the flourspar. Another railroad is pushing its way into Pope county. The supposition is that it is the Wabash. New railroad building is in progress everywhere. Coal mines in Saline, Williamson and adjoining counties are the best. They are modern in their equipment and with thick veins to work they are hoisting immense quantities of good fuel, which finds a quick market. Some of the most fertile land in the state can be seen in the extreme southern end of the state. There is a radical improvement in educational interests and facilities. WINGS BURGLAR

Thief is Shot at Griggsville but Manages to Get Away—Trail of Blood Is Found and Bloodhounds Sent for to Follow

Pittsfield, Aug. 18.—Burglars were discovered in Sam Stead's house in Griggsville last night by a man who was going home at a late hour.

Stead's family was away on a visit and the neighbor, knowing this, thought it strange that a light should be burning there at that hour. He hastened home and armed himself, returning in time to see two men fleeing down the alley. He called to them to halt, but getting no response he fired. One of the men fell forward, but regained his feet and made off with his companion.

This morning bloody underclothes were found in an abandoned shop nearby, where it is supposed the wounded burglar stopped to staunch the flow of blood from the gunshot wound.

The Colchester bloodhounds were wired for and they arrived on this evening's train to take the trail. There is considerable excitement over the affair, as several burglaries have been committed in Griggsville and Pittsfield in the past few days.

THIRD REGIMENT'S CAMP.

Springfield, Aug. 18.—Cool weather, coupled with the change of water and diet, is causing wholesale sickness in the Third regiment, which now occupies Camp Lincoln, and innumerable cases of stomach trouble have been reported at the regimental hospital. While the Red Cross attaches discredit reports of serious illness in camp, they admit that it is harder for soldiers to bear up under changed conditions in cool weather than during hot days, and say that sickness has been more general in this regiment than in any other command during this summer's encampment.

Officers of the regiment will call upon Governor and Mrs. Yates at the executive mansion tomorrow evening, and the band will play a complimentary concert in the mansion grounds.

TO HOLD PICNIC

Portuguese will Observe Annual Celebration at Home.

The annual celebration of the Portuguese exiles will be held this year, Thursday, Aug. 20, at the old Morgan county fair grounds. An excellent program has been arranged and there will be races of various kinds, a base ball game and other amusements of interest. It will be an all day picnic affair and in the afternoon Gov. Richard Yates, Rev. George C. Lenington and Frank Nunes, of Chatham, have been invited to make addresses.

It is contrary to their usual custom to hold the celebration at home, but they plan for a most successful observance of the day nevertheless. The anniversary is always fraught with new meaning and the coming of the pioneer Portuguese from Portugal, the Island of Madeira (and other points, has been a factor in the life of Jacksonville for over fifty years and they have made substantial citizens with progressive and modern ideas.

It is certainly to be hoped that the celebration will prove to be all that the efficient committee in charge anticipates.

Cooper & Gillman will place inch shaker screened lump and Litchfield white ash block coal at 11 cents per bu. No less.

TISDALE-STURTEVANT.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents at Kushla, Ala., Saturday, Aug. 15, by Dr. D. A. Plank, of Mobile, Marion Eugene Tisdale, of Mobile, and Helen Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sturtevant, formerly of this city.

Owing to the recent bereavement in the family the wedding was the most simple and quiet possible. The event had been set for Sept. 15, and was hastened by the ill health of the groom who is obliged at once to go to the mountains of North Carolina for rest.

COAL GOES DOWN.

Yesterday the screened lump coal which has been sold during recent months by most dealers at 13 cents per bushel, dropped to 10 cents per bushel. The sudden and decided change in price quite naturally aroused a great deal of interest. A good many people seemed to be of the opinion that the dealers had some kind of a fight on and that a still lower price might be looked for. When asked about the cause of the slump none of the dealers were willing to talk, although they did not hesitate to say that the bottom had already been reached. But no matter whether the low price prevails long or whether the dealers are selling at cost, the people are reaping the benefit and are right glad that the market has declined. The prices asked by dealers vary from 10c to 13c.

CROP CONDITIONS

Corn Show Advancement in Past Week—Fall Plowing
Well Along.

The crop bulletin issued by the Illinois weather bureau for the past week is as follows. Corn is somewhat improved but the nights have been too cool for marked growth.

Rainfall in ample quantity, occurred in nearly all sections during the week, a few localities only reporting lack of moisture. The soil is in good condition and considerable fall plowing has been done. Reports indicate a decreased acreage will be planted in wheat. The temperature has been below the seasonal average, the mean daily deficiency ranging from 2 to 5 degrees, according to locality.

Corn has made advancement, but the growth has not been commensurate with the backward condition of the crop. The nights have been too cool for rapid growth. Conjecture is already advanced that the ripening of much of the crop depends on the late occurrence of frost. Some fields are in such a backward stage that fodder only will be secured. The pressing need of the crop at the present time is warm weather.

The threshing of oats is still in progress, but the work has been delayed by wet weather. The output is very uneven, ranging from average to very light yield. The quality is generally good, but considerable complaint is made of light weight grain.

Favorable reports are received with regard to the quality and yield of rye. There has been a marked improvement in pastures. The second crop of clover is making rapid growth and a large crop will be harvested for seed.

Late gardens are promising. Potatoes are not yielding as full as was expected. Complaint is still made that apples are dropping badly. There will be from the present outlook a greatly reduced crop of this fruit.

CENTRAL DISTRICT.

Cass, Bluff Springs—Cool weather with plenty of moisture; corn still promises a good crop, but will be late unless warmer weather comes; vegetable fairly plentiful; pastures good.—C. H. Decker.

Ford, Piper City—Corn doing well—a few light showers helped that which was blown down; oats threshing about one-half done, yield and quality light—early oats best weight; pastures good and clover making a good growth.—J. T. Clark.

Hancock, Sonora—A few very light rains, with cool, cloudy weather; corn improved decidedly—good color, and making good growth; threshing in progress, with disappointing results, except for rye which is good; grapes ripening; peaches beginning to ripen; good crop; plums fine; gardens good.—Almon Northrup.

Macon, Emory—Threshing progressed nicely up to the 13th when it was delayed by rain; oats will be light crop with average weight.—B. B. Hackaday.

Crawford, Robinson—Growth of corn retarded by cool weather; pastures, meadows and second crop of clover good; apples still dropping, crop very short; plowing for wheat in progress; there will be a reduced acreage of wheat sown.—A. P. Woodworth.

DeWitt, Wapella—Oats threshing in progress, light crop; corn looks well, with late frost will be good crop; second crop of clover in good condition; threshing retarded by rains on 13th and 15th; light crop of apples; potatoes and pastures fair.—A. D. Metz.

Fulton, Canton—Too cool for corn a great deal of which is not yet tasseled; threshing finished, oats average poor crop; grass good; clover promising; good rains; apples dropping; plowing begun.—A. J. Daff.

McLean, Bellflower—Rain on 13th; corn made fair growth, but it is very backward and some think it will make but two-thirds of a crop; about two-thirds of the oats are threshed; apples falling.—H. Flint.

Mason, Sincars—Weather cool and damp with nice rain early in the week; corn much improved by rains; fall plowing well under way and ground is in good condition; potatoes and cabbage look well; peaches and apples promise a fair crop.—C. H. Schaad.

Montgomery, Waggoner—Another good week for corn—plenty of rain and good growing weather; threshing delayed by rains; pastures doing nicely; stock in fair condition.—John Furkaple.

Moultrie, Gays—Plenty of rain latter part of week; corn doing well; oats all threshed, about one-half yield; ground in fine condition for fall plowing; pastures improved since rains; broom corn coming out nicely, but short crop; greater portion of corn is three weeks late; potatoes and tomatoes plentiful.—J. M. Ashcraft.

Platt, Cicero—Weather too cool for corn which looks well, but is not maturing; pastures fine; threshing all done, light yield, but fair quality; potatoes fair crop.—J. H. Jefford.

Tazewell, Hopedale—Temperature below normal; fine rains have afforded sufficient, but not excessive moisture; corn improving rapidly; oats threshing nearly finished, yield disappointing; meadows and pastures doing well.—Andrew Naeiger.

Vermillion, Ridge Farm—Rain Thursday; too cool for corn; all well; oats threshing nearly done, general average fair; pastures good; good prospect for clover seed.—W. M. Bines.

THE STREET FAIR

Discussed by the Summer School of Philosophy—Various Opinions Expressed.

There was hardly a quorum present at the summer school of philosophy Tuesday, but the subject under discussion was an interesting one and the enthusiasm of the few present more than made up for the absentees. The street fair was the topic investigated and many enlightened opinions were expressed.

Primus believed in amusements of a public character. It was a custom handed down from ancient times. The Olympian games were an example and in Roman times the popularity of the circuses was often measured by the gorgeous spectacles arranged for the amusement of the "oi polloi." Even the Greeks and the Romans as great as was their culture and as thoroughly as they believed in the cultivation and development of the mind recognized the fact that the latter needs a reaction and that a period of recreation is essential.

Secundus confessed ignorance as to the customs that prevailed among the ancients and as for games he was not even conversant with the modern pastimes. He had played "shinny" and pitched horse shoes, but the modern exercise known as golf, where the players wore different colored stockings on their legs, and required a 40-acre lot and a $10 outfit to play the game he felt was beyond his comprehension. He didn't know how it was at the time of the Roman circuses, but he was certain the present day politicians furnished all the amusement necessary for the relaxation of the public mind.

Tertius believed the street fair and carnival of modern times an entertainment highly valuable as an educational factor. If the attractions were of the low hoochee coochee variety they taught as good a lesson to the younger generation as the pitiable aspect of the drunkard in the gutter. If they were of the wholesome variety, as it was expected the coming carnival would be, an innocent source of amusement would be provided for the summer stay-at-homes.

Quartus thought there should be temperance in all things. He favored a street fair, especially the free attractions. He did not believe in the goody goody nor was he in favor of going to the other extreme in the matter of attractions. At the same time he admitted of the object of the fair was to draw a crowd, somewhere within the city limits there would have to be something of the spicy and up-to-date variety. He believed the virtue that had to be guarded with a fence around it was not worth the guarding.

Quintus had thought over the matter a great deal, but was hardly ready to express a decided opinion. A street fair has its good points and bad points. He could see nothing in the antics of the jig dancer or in such gyrations as were exhibited last year on the platform in the park when a man representing an old "Rube" gave a spectacle of trying to break a jack ass. Such occasions were propitious seasons for sparking and tended to the promotion of steady couples and to a certain degree perhaps was in furtherance of the Rooseveltian theory.

Sextus enjoyed a crowd. It was an interesting study. He expected to be on hand bright and early every day and would take in all the free attractions and all of the pay entertainments he could afford. He was glad the town was going to take on signs of life and he hoped there would be something "doin'" every minute of carnival week. He saw all the hoochee coochee shows he ever wanted to see during the Chicago world's fair when a man's reputation didn't suffer thereby and the article there was of such a high class that the present cheap skate side shows offered not the slightest temptations. The morale of the coming carnival was not keeping him awake nights.

Septimus thought the value to the merchants of such a season of gayety over-estimated. Only certain classes of trade received the benefit, while all were put to an extra expense. He recognized the fact, however, that a town must keep abreast of the times and since the days of the old-fashioned county fair were gone he knew of no better substitute than the present carnival plan. He believed the children would go into school in the fall brighter and fresher for this period of free entertainment. He always favored co-operating with the majority and hoped the present fair would prove successful in every way.

Octavius said street fairs catered to the baser tastes of humanity and in the main this class of entertainment either openly or secretly predominated wherever they were held. He believed their prevalence indicated a debauched taste and their popularity were most uncertain signs of degeneracy. He had heard the coming carnival was to be free from all objectionable features and he was anxiously awaiting the result. Tertius assured if his anxiety was confined merely to this point and the latter finally admitted that he felt it would be necessary to visit the various attractions in order to satisfy himself. Tertius based his anxiety would not overtake his anxiety and that he would make his investigations to the limit indicated.

There was no profit in corn, and the market was almost unsalable.

would open in all its glory next Monday and doubtless all of the speakers would lend their sanction to the project by their attendance and patronage of the attractions offered. The thing he most regretted was the untimely interruption of the sessions of the school, the minds of whose members would doubtless become so filled with frivolities that the delightful discussions held earlier in the summer will not be repeated until another year rolls around with its season of quiet.

The reflection of the last speaker was borne in upon the members with so much force that a feeling of sadness overcame them and they were unable to continue the discussion.

ON THE RACE COURSE

Driving Club will Give Interesting Matinee Friday.

The Jacksonville Driving club has announced a matinee for Friday afternoon of this week at the Morgan county fair grounds. If the weather is favorable there will undoubtedly be a large attendance, for the reason that amusements have not been plentiful in Jacksonville this summer and for the added reason that the driving club has promised a good speed program. In addition to the usual events there will be a slow trot, which will be of interest and besides the club has generously offered a prize for the finest turnout.

There are lots of goods horses in Mor-an county and the best of them will be seen on the track next Friday afternoon. The track by the way is in good condition, so that everything will be propitious for the success of these races. The members of the driving club are not running the matinee to make money, but for their own pleasure and the pleasure of their friends. Thousands should attend Friday afternoon.

Cooper & Gillman will place your order for Greenview five-inch shaker screened lump and Litchfield white ash black coal at 11 cents per bu. No less.

John A. Ayers, president of the Ayers National bank, with W. H. Garrett and Miss Helen Louise Ayers, will leave to day for an eastern trip. They will return to Jacksonville Sent. 6.

Frank Byrns left yesterday for Pine Bluff, Ark., to spend a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith.
